This Week's ❖ Events

◆ Currently on display through Friday, October 11

Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit: Lee Rumsey "Celebration"

Erdman Hall

Lee Rumsey, a graduate of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is a painter inspired by music, dance, and photography. She has exhibited her work widely for the past 15 years and describes her artistic process as a sacred, deeply spiritual observing of people and of her environment. She writes: "I believe that my sensitivity to the human spirit is reflected in the passion, love, and tender care I put into these paintings. The finished work stimulates a dialogue with the viewer. My intent is to create a reaction—a very personal, moving experience."

Gallery Hours are:
Monday–Saturday 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Sunday 2:30–6:30 p.m.

An artist talk and reception will be held Wednesday, September 25 at 4:30 p.m.

Phone: 497-7990

◆ Monday, September 16 through Thursday, September 19

Vocal Placements and Auditions for Seminary Choirs

Scheide Hall

Do you enjoying singing? Would you like some hands-on experience in worship leadership? Come join a choir! There are three PTS choirs. The Jubilate Deo choir is an unauditioned choir that meets on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 9:00 to 9:50 a.m. The Cantate Domino choir is an auditioned choir that meets on Tuesday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Both choirs provide leadership in morning chapel services and perform in a Christmas concert. Either of these choirs may be taken as a course (WR812) for one hour of credit. The Touring Choir is a small auditioned choir that travels to regional churches on Sundays. Members of this choir receive a stipend.

Vocal placements and auditions will take place in Scheide Hall. Sign up is in the reception area. You must sign up for a vocal placement or audition, regardless of prior membership in these choirs.

Guest Preacher

All Saints' Episcopal Church 10:00 a.m.
16 All Saints' Road, Princeton

Dr. Yakob Mar Irenaios (Class of 1994), now an archbishop of the Malankara Orthodox Syrian Church in India, will preach at the 10:00 a.m. service at All Saints' Episcopal Church. After a brief reception, Bishop Mar Irenaios will address the Adult Form at 11:30 a.m. on the spirituality of his church. The bishop has a Ph.D. in English literature and has been a guest lecturer at major universities in India. While at PTS in its Th.M. program, he concentrated on the poetry of T.S. Eliot and western spirituality. All are welcome.

◆ Friday, September 27 through Sunday, September 29
"The Pastor Is a Lady!" Conference

Columbus Airport Radisson Hotel
Columbus, Ohio

Female pastors and female divinity school students who feel called to the pulpit ministry are invited to attend "The Pastor Is a Lady!" conference.

Hosted by Yale University Divinity School graduate Susan Williams Smith, the conference will gather women from across the nation to address the issues female pastors must face.

Smith, who has been the pastor of Advent United Church of Christ in Columbus for 12 years, feels it is time for women to meet to "discuss the pastoral journey" and to talk about "all the things you don't learn in divinity school or Bible college."

Registration for the event is $150, which includes the conference materials and two meals. Find more information at www.susanksmithministries.com.

The conference is ecumenical and is open to women of all denominations and faiths. For more information, please call 888-435-0707.

Public Lecture: "Dietrich Bonhoeffer on Politics and Truth"

Center of Theological Inquiry 8:00 p.m.
50 Stockton Street, Princeton

Although identified as an ethicist, Dr. Stanley Hauerwas, professor of theological ethics at Duke University Divinity School, intends primarily to show in what way theological convictions make no sense unless they are actually embodied in our lives. To that end, Hauerwas was among the first to reclaim the importance of character and the virtues for the display of Christian living. He has also drawn attention to the importance of narrative for explicating the interrelation of practical reason and personal identity, and correlatively the significance of the church as the necessary context for Christian formation and moral reflection. His work draws on a great range of literatures—from classical, philosophical, and theological texts to contemporary political theory. He also works in medical ethics, issues of war and peace, and the care of the mentally handicapped.

Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit: Lee Rumsey "Celebration"

Erdman Hall

Lee Rumsey, a graduate of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is a painter inspired by music, dance, and photography. She has exhibited her work widely for the past 15 years and describes her artistic process as a sacred, deeply spiritual observing of people and of her environment. She writes: "I believe that my sensitivity to the human spirit is reflected in the passion, love, and tender care I put into these paintings. The finished work stimulates a dialogue with the viewer. My intent is to create a reaction—a very personal, moving experience."

Gallery Hours are:

Monday–Saturday	8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30–6:30 p.m.

An artist talk and reception will be held Wednesday, September 25 at 4:30 p.m.

◆ Self-Integration Seminar

Some of us are dominated by our rational, analytic side and are out of touch with feelings; others are driven by feelings and impulse; still others struggle with "shoulds" or unhealthy, compulsive behaviors. How do we balance thinking with feeling and learn from the competing "voices" within? How do we handle our need to please, our need to be needed, our perfectionism, our need for control, or our fears of conflict and intimacy? How can we open to God's wisdom so that our lives and decisions are more centered?

Nancy Schongalla-Bowman, PTS's director of student counseling, is offering a seminar this semester in which participants will learn a journal-writing process that facilitates self-awareness, self-responsibility, self-integration, and listening to God. Brief reading and journaling assignments between sessions will help this approach to become a tool for life. Please call the Chapel Office for more information about this seminar or email Nancy Schongalla-Bowman.

our perfectionism, our need for control, or our fears of conflict and intimacy? How can we open to God's wisdom so that our lives and decisions are more centered?

Nancy Schongalla-Bowman, PTS's director of student counseling, is offering a seminar this semester in which participants will learn a journal-writing process that facilitates self-awareness, self-responsibility, self-integration, and listening to God. Brief reading and journaling assignments between sessions will help this approach to become a tool for life. Please call the Chapel Office for more information about this seminar or email Nancy Schongalla-Bowman.

Main Lounge

Dr. Sathianathan Clarke, this year's Missions lecturer, is an Anglican priest and scholar from Bangalore, India. Clarke is associate professor in the Department of Theology and Ethics at United Theological College in Bangalore. In 1998 he wrote Dalits and Christianity: Subaltern Religion and Liberation Theology in India. Clarke has written about the untouchables of India and others who are not empowered in that culture. He has also written about Christianity in the Hindu context of India.

The schedule is as follows:

Lecture I
Monday, October 21 at 7:00 p.m., followed by a reception in the Private Dining Room
"Subalternity, Religious Identity, Politics, and Christian Theology in India"

Lecture II

◆ Monday, October 21 through Saturday, November 30
Gallery Talk and Opening of Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit: William Brower "Mountain Tops"

Erdman Hall 4:30 p.m.

William Brower is associate professor of speech and communication emeritus at PTS and a poet, sculptor, and painter. His recent work incorporates "recycled stonework" from renovations of the Princeton University campus into the art form of bonsekis, the creation of miniature landscapes using natural stones and white sand to represent scenes in nature. His art "stresses the potential salutary effect of meditating on 'nature in miniature.'"

Gallery hours are:

Monday–Saturday	8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30–6:30 p.m.

An artist talk and reception will be held Monday, October 21 at 4:30 p.m.

Seminarians Organized Against Rape Forum—"Nothing Secret, Except to Come to Light: Theological and Pastoral Dimensions of Clergy Sexual Abuse"
Main Lounge 6:30–8:30 p.m.

As the stories that have made headlines over the past several months bear witness, the effects of clergy sexual abuse—on the victims, their families, individual parishes, and the church in society—are deep, lasting, and usually devastating.

Seminarians Organized Against Rape (SOAR) presents a forum with Dr. James Hanson, PTS graduate and associate professor of religion at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota. Hanson will address issues related to clergy abuse from the perspective of the victim's experience, especially its spiritual and psychological aspects, and will reflect as well on its wider theological and social dimensions.

◆ Monday, October 21
Continuing Education Event: "The Household of God: Families and the New Testament"
Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

This event will explore the function of kinship language in early Christianity, particularly Pauline Christianity, and how it is shaped by apocalyptic convictions. The church as an alternative household challenges—both in the New Testament era and today—the conventional understandings of household. For some who are excluded from their families of origin when they convert to Christianity, the church as an alternative household functions as a replacement family to resolve social conflict. For others, being adopted by God at baptism places them in a new family of Christian brothers and sisters and thus creates social conflict. Participants will ask how the New Testament texts might inform our contemporary discussions about families.

Elizabeth Johnson, professor of New Testament at Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Erdman Hall 4:30 p.m.

William Brower is associate professor of speech and communication emeritus at PTS and a poet, sculptor, and painter. His recent work incorporates "recycled stonework" from renovations of the Princeton University campus into the art form of bonseki, the creation of miniature landscapes using natural stones and white sand to represent scenes in nature. His art "stresses the potential salutary effect of meditating on 'nature in miniature.'" The exhibit will be displayed through Saturday, November 30.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services and Facilities Announcements

Vehicle Parking Permits

Due to the construction of the new parking garage, parking on the main campus will be severely limited for the 2002–2003 academic year.

The following parking restrictions are in effect for students from 7:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Please note that these parking restrictions are lifted after 5:00 p.m. on weekdays and on Saturday and Sunday.

West Windsor Campus Residents: No parking in any parking spaces on the main campus. Vehicles must have an orange "resident" sticker to park in your residence lot. Orange sticker vehicles will not be permitted on campus during the aforementioned times.

Tennent Campus Residents: Park at the Tennent campus lot only.

Dormitory Residents: Park at the library lot only.

All residents will need to get new stickers for their vehicles for this academic year. These stickers should be permanently affixed to the vehicle's rear driver's-side window. Please stop by the Housing and Auxiliary Services Office, 203 Templeton Hall, to obtain a new permit. There is no charge. If you lose your sticker, however, there will be a $10 charge for each replacement sticker. Vehicles without appropriate parking stickers will be ticketed by security.

The parking deck construction is an inconvenience for the entire Seminary community: students, staff, faculty, and visitors. We ask for your understanding, cooperation, and patience this academic year.

◆ Monday, October 21
Continuing Education Event—"The Household of God: Families and the New Testament"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

This event will explore the function of kinship language in early Christianity, particularly Pauline Christianity, and how it is shaped by apocalyptic convictions. The church as an alternative household challenges—both in the New Testament era and today—the conventional understandings of household. For some who are excluded from their families of origin when they convert to Christianity, the church as an alternative household functions as a replacement family to resolve social conflict. For others, being adopted by God at baptism places them in a new family of Christian brothers and sisters and thus creates social conflict. Participants will ask how the New Testament texts might inform our contemporary discussions about families.

Elizabeth Johnson, professor of New Testament at Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Monday, October 28 through Tuesday, October 29
Continuing Education Event—"Biblical Teaching for Missional Change"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)
This seminar is based on two assumptions: (1) The context for Christian ministry in North America is now a difficult and challenging mission field, requiring that the church become a missional community; (2) Scripture is the Holy Spirit's instrument to equip missional communities for faithful witness. Participants will investigate the implications for biblical teaching and preaching of these assumptions.

Darrell L. Guder, PTS's Henry Winters Luce Professor of Missional and Ecumenical Theology, will lead this event.

When you are feeling discouraged or defeated by the tasks of pastoral care, what regenerates your vision and energy? What genuinely renews you for the work of caring for your congregation?

This workshop is designed to give you new tools for difficult situations of pastoral care, not by focusing on those whom you serve, but by finding new sources of strength in yourself, in your life with others, and with God. The format will combine lecture, discussion, small group participation, and a number of practical and interactive exercises to increase

Daily Prayer Gatherings during Reading Week

Worship continues during reading week (Monday, October 28–Saturday, November 2)! Although morning chapel is suspended during reading week, there will be daily informal prayer gatherings from 10:00 to 10:20 a.m., Monday through Friday in Miller Chapel. Don't be spiritually isolated during reading week—come one, come all. For more information, contact Arlene Dunn at 497-1213.

Submit notices online! Deadline, Mondays at noon.

This Week's ❖ Events

◆ Monday, October 28 through Tuesday, October 29
Continuing Education Event—"Biblical Teaching for Missional Change"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)
This seminar is based on two assumptions: (1) The context for Christian ministry in North America is now a difficult and challenging mission field, requiring that the church become a missional community; (2) Scripture is the Holy Spirit's instrument to equip missional communities for faithful witness. Participants will investigate the implications for biblical teaching and preaching of these assumptions.

Darrell L. Guder, PTS's Henry Winters Luce Professor of Missional and Ecumenical Theology, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Contact: Center of Continuing Education
Phone: 497-7990

◆ Tuesday, October 29
The New Heart-Saver CPR Course
Witherspoon Lounge 1:00–4:00 p.m.
The New Heart-Saver CPR Course, which covers adults, infants, and children, is being offered to PTS students and spouses. Participants will receive a certificate from the American Heart Association, which will be good for two years. The cost is $5 per person. Preregistration is required; contact Carol Belles in the Student Relations Office (497-7882 or carol.belles@ptsem.edu).

◆ Tuesday, October 29 through Thursday, October 31
Continuing Education Event—"Caring for the Pastoral Caregiver"
Erdman Hall
4:30 p.m. (Tuesday) to 12:30 p.m. (Thursday)
When you are feeling discouraged or defeated by the tasks of pastoral care, what regenerates your vision and energy? What genuinely renews you for the work of caring for your congregation?

This workshop is designed to give you new tools for difficult situations of pastoral care, not by focusing on those whom you serve, but by finding new sources of strength in yourself, in your life with others, and with God. The format will combine lecture, discussion, small group participation, and a number of practical and interactive exercises to increase your "zest" for caring for others.

Deborah van Deusen Hunsinger, PTS's associate professor of pastoral theology, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

General ❖ Notices

◆ Theological Student Advisory Delegates (TSAD) Elections

Election of theological student advisory delegates to the 215th General Assembly to be held Saturday, May 24 through Saturday, May 31, 2003, in Denver, Colorado, will take place on Tuesday, November 5. PCUSA students who are either inquirers or candidates in preparation for ministry under care of a presbytery, and who have at least one year of study remaining in their degree program after the Assembly meets, are eligible to be TSADs.

Application forms are available in the Office of Student Relations in Templeton 202 and must be submitted before the end of the workday on Thursday, October 31. The election will be held in the Office of Student Relations and, during the lunch hour, in the Mackay Campus Center. If you have any questions about the process, call Carol Belles or Cathy Cook Davis at 497-7882.

◆ Facilities Announcement

Parking in Brown Hall Temporary Gravel Lot

For those who park in the Brown Hall temporary gravel lot: to alleviate confusion and maximize available parking, spaces have been marked off for construction workers and for PTS staff. The yellow-striped spaces are for the construction workers and the white-striped spaces are for staff. Please note the marked spaces and signs, and park accordingly. We are working on making additional temporary parking spaces available.

Thank you for your patience and cooperation.

◆ "Motherless Daughters" Discussion

PTS women students are looking for other "Motherless Daughters" (staff and students) to meet together on a regular basis to read and discuss the book Motherless Daughters: The Legacy of Loss by Hope Edelman. The following is from the publisher's book review:

"Ask any woman whose mother has died at an early (or any) age and she will tell you that her life is irrevocably altered; that this one fact forever changes who she is and who she will be. Gone is the caregiver, teacher, adversary, role model, and guide to being a woman. A daughter's relationship with her father and siblings changes and secondary losses can be overwhelming. Transition times in a women's life—leaving home, getting married, having a child—bring up yearnings for guidance or company and there is often nowhere to turn.

Hope Edelman, who lost her mother when she was seventeen, searched for this book and when she couldn't find it, she decided to write it herself. Edelman traveled across the country speaking to motherless women of all ages, conducted original research, and consulted psychiatrists, psychologists, and experts in grieving."

If you are interested in participating in this small group and want more information, please contact Heather McDivitt (279-9354 or heather.mcdivitt@ptsem.edu) or Christin Rice (937-0310 or christin.rice@ptsem.edu) by Friday, November 8.

◆ PTS Summer MesoAmerica Studies Program

Any students wishing to apply for the PTS summer MesoAmerica Studies Program should submit their notification of intent to Professor Mark Taylor by Tuesday, December 1. Included with this statement, please indicate why you are interested in such a program and how it serves your vocational goals. All applicants for this program are encouraged to first read the course description for EC339 in the Seminary catalogue on page 101, since the MesoAmerica Studies Project is offered through that academic course. Send application letters to Mark Taylor via campus mail.

Participants will include Dr. Marvin Goldstein and Dr. Harvey Kornberg, codirectors of the Julius and Dorothy Koppelman Holocaust/Genocide Resource Center at Rider University; Ruth Lubitz, a survivor, who will share a personal story of Kristallnacht; Kristin Saldine, PTS's minister of the chapel; Martin

Tel, PTS's Seabrook Director of Music; Cantor David Wisnia from Har Sinai Temple in Trenton; and PTS members of Seminarians for Social Change, Mary Beth LeCroy, Beth Pyles, Noelle Tennis, David Warner, Alexander Wimberly, and Kiran Young.

The Kristallnacht program commemorates the night of November 9, 1938, when Nazis incited mobs to attack Jewish citizens in Germany and Austria and to destroy synagogues and Jewish-owned businesses and property. Many regard this as the turning point in the Nazi persecution—the first systematic act in the genocidal process against the Jews.

The interfaith service will feature songs, readings, a historical overview of the significance of Kristallnacht, witness recollection, litanies, and prayers. Refreshments will be served in the Gambrell Room following the service.

Continuing Education Event: "Transforming Congregations"

Erdman Hall
4:30 p.m. (Wednesday) to 4:00 p.m. (Friday)

This workshop provides a thorough introduction to five dynamics of church redevelopment and several accompanying participatory resources available for use in the local church. Using a spiritual gifts inventory, participants will explore first the development of their own spiritual energy and then that of their congregations. A U.S. congregational survey will be introduced in order for participants to learn to use and interpret it to understand congregational identity.

Leadership roles of pastors and approaches to leadership team development will be examined before participants finally formulate their own role in developing a ministry plan in their congregations. Steven Boots, an associate for congregational redevelopment for the Presbyterian Church, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Cleophus J. LaRue

Biographical Sketch

Cleophus J. LaRue is Francis Landey Patton Associate Professor of Homiletics at Princeton Theological Seminary. He specializes in the theory and method of African American preaching and worship. LaRue is an ordained minister in the National Baptist Convention of America. He is the former pastor of two churches in Texas as well as the former interim pastor of churches in Harlem and Jamaica Queens, New York.

A frequent speaker in churches and seminaries throughout the country, LaRue is a member of the Academy of Homiletics and the Society for the Study of Black Religion. He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Baylor University in Waco, Texas and his M.Div. and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton Theological Seminary. He is the author of The Heart of Black Preaching and the editor of Power in the Pulpit: How America's Most Effective Black Preachers Prepare Their Sermons. Both books are published by Westminster John Knox Press. He and his family reside in Princeton, New Jersey.

PCUSA students who are either inquirers or candidates in preparation for ministry under care of a presbytery, and who have at least one year of study remaining in their degree program after the Assembly meets, are eligible to be TSADs.

The election will be held in the Office of Student Relations and, during the lunch hour, in the Mackay Campus Center. If you have any questions about the process, call Carol Belles or Cathy Cook Davis at 497-7882.

◆ "Motherless Daughters" Discussion

PTS women students are looking for other "Motherless Daughters" (staff and students) to meet together on a regular basis to read and discuss the book Motherless Daughters: The Legacy of Loss by Hope Edelman. The following is from the publisher's book review:

"Ask any woman whose mother has died at an early (or any) age and she will tell you that her life is irrevocably altered; that this one fact forever changes who she is and who she will be. Gone is the caregiver, teacher, adversary, role model, and guide to being a woman. A daughter's relationship with her father and siblings changes and secondary losses can be overwhelming. Transition times in a women's life—leaving home, getting married, having a child—bring up yearnings for guidance or company and there is often nowhere to turn.

Hope Edelman, who lost her mother when she was seventeen, searched for this book and when she couldn't find it, she decided to write it herself. Edelman traveled across the country speaking to motherless women of all ages, conducted original research, and consulted psychiatrists, psychologists, and experts in grieving."

If you are interested in participating in this small group and want more information, please contact Heather McDivitt (279-9354 or heather.mcdivitt@ptsem.edu) or Christin Rice (937-0310 or christin.rice@ptsem.edu) by Friday, November 8.

◆ PTS Summer MesoAmerica Studies Program

Any students wishing to apply for the PTS summer MesoAmerica Studies Program should submit their notification of intent to Professor Mark Taylor by Tuesday, December 1. Included with this statement, please indicate why you are interested in such a program and how it serves your vocational goals. All applicants for this program are encouraged to first read the course description for EC339 in the Seminary catalogue on page 101, since the MesoAmerica Studies Project is offered through that academic course. Send application letters to Mark Taylor via campus mail.

◆ The Princeton Hub Drop-In Center

The Princeton Hub is a Saturday night drop-in center for adults with mental and emotional disabilities in the greater Mercer County area, founded in 1979 by area religious organizations.

The Hub invites the PTS community to volunteer in a variety of ways: by joining in the evening's activities; sharing a talent or hobby or teaching a life skill (cooking, budget planning, exercise tips, music, dance lessons, crafts); preparing a favorite recipe or providing ingredients for the monthly meal, as well as sitting and enjoying the meal together.

For more information, contact Lynne P. Seidel at (908-359-7497 or pfarful@aol.com) or The Princeton Hub at Princeton United Methodist Church (924-0781).

◆ Tuesday, November 12 "Imagining the Power of the Goddess: Gender in Yoruba Religious Traditions and Modernity"

Princeton University, McCosh 28 4:30 p.m.

"Imagining the Power of the Goddess: Gender in Yoruba Religious Traditions and Modernity," a lecture presented by Jacob K. Olupona, director of the Program in African American and African Studies and professor of the history of religions at the University of California at Davis, will take place on the Princeton University campus.

Olupona's current research focuses on women, gender, and African immigrant religious communities. His other research interests include African traditional religions, indigenous religious traditions and modernity, African Christianity, and African religion in the New World. Olupona is a recent recipient of the John Simon Guggenheim Fellowship and the University of California Research Fellowship.

He has served as a Commonwealth Universities academic fellow (England); a senior fellow at Harvard University's Center for the Study of Religions; the Davidson Distinguished Visiting Professor in the Humanities at Florida International University, Miami; and a Fulbright visiting professor.

This event is sponsored by the Center for the Study of Religion and is a component of the Women and Religion in the African Diaspora Project, funded by the Ford Foundation. For more information, contact the Center for the Study of Religion at 258-5545 or askline@princeton.edu.

◆ Tuesday, November 19
"Transformation...Adoption... Transformation"
Mackay Auditorium 12:40 p.m.

PTS's Association of Single Parents invites the PTS community to a noontime forum titled "Transformation...Adoption...Transformation." This forum will focus on the fastest-growing population in our world: households headed by a single adult. There are myriad reasons for this population increase: divorce, death, abuse, war, etc. This particular family unit has strengths and weaknesses of which we, as present and future pastors, should be informed.

Deadra Johns, PTS's coordinator of donor research and institutional planning, will speak on the topic of "Transformation." Join us, and bring your lunch and your heart.

Monday, December 2 through Tuesday, December 3
Continuing Education Event: "Vital Visionary Congregations"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)
This seminar will facilitate clergy's understanding of what makes congregational life exciting, vital, and spiritual. Through lecture, experience, and case study, participants will gain knowledge of how to revitalize or build on the excitement in their congregations. The seminar will include the following: understanding how the size of a congregation affects the expectation of both clergy and laity; studying strategies to help a congregation determine its values, vision, and mission; learning techniques to determine a congregation's culture; discerning change strategies appropriate for a congregation; analyzing the systems operating in a congregation; exploring congregational trends; and assessing the role music plays in congregational vitality.

Leaders: Elliot S. Schoenberg is associate executive director of The Rabbinical Assembly, the international professional association of Conservative rabbis. Suzanne Stier has a consulting practice that works with family-owned businesses, and she also serves as a consultant for the Alban Institute.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

This event is offered in cooperation with The Rabbinical Assembly, the professional organization of Conservative Jewish rabbis.

Friday, December 6
Continuing Education Event: "Karl Barth on the Holy Spirit"
Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.
How is the saving work of Christ related to the work of the Holy Spirit? What role does the Holy Spirit play in revelation and reconciliation? How would a better understanding of the Holy Spirit help guide today's preachers and teachers in the church? These and other questions will be explored in this seminar. Participants will read a section from Barth's Church Dogmatics in advance. The sessions will then work through this material in careful detail.
Although it has been claimed that Barth has no doctrine of the Holy Spirit, the passage that will be read is typical of the more than 700 pages that Barth wrote on this topic in his dogmatics. Please read in advance: Church Dogmatics (T.&T. Clark, 1956), volume 1, part 2, pp. 203–278.

◆ Arts Ministries in the Church

Offered for 1.5 units of graduate academic credit or for audit through the Graduate Theological Union's Center for the Arts, Religion, and Education (Berkeley, California), Arts Ministries in the Church will be held at Middle Collegiate Church and the American Bible Society Art Gallery, both in New York City, from Sunday, January 12 through Friday, January 17.

Learn how the arts can assist churches in community outreach. Middle Collegiate now reaches hundreds of people in its neighborhood through its gospel choir, jazz ensemble, steel drum band, photograph gallery and dark room, pottery studio, labyrinth, resident dance and drama companies, improvisational art ensembles, puppet theater, weekly AIDS ministry banquets with an arts emphasis, Second Avenue Street Festival, After School Arts Center, children's summer arts program, and worship using the arts.

To register, contact Dr. Doug Adams by email (dadams@psr.edu) or telephone (510-849-8285); or contact the Reverend Gordon Dragt of Middle Collegiate Church by email (gdragt@middlechurch.org) or telephone (212-477-0666). Brochures are available in Templeton 103. Contact Professor James Kay at 497-7941 for more information.

This Week's ❖ Events

◆ Monday, December 2 through Tuesday, December 3
Continuing Education Event: "Vital Visionary Congregations"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

This seminar will facilitate clergy's understanding of what makes congregational life exciting, vital, and spiritual. Through lecture, experience, and case study, participants will gain knowledge of how to revitalize or build on the excitement in their congregations. The seminar will include the following: understanding how the size of a congregation affects the expectations of both clergy and laity; studying strategies to help a congregation determine its values, vision, and mission; learning techniques to determine a congregation's culture; discerning change strategies appropriate for a congregation; analyzing the systems operating in a congregation; exploring congregational trends; and assessing the role music plays in congregational vitality.

Leaders: Elliot S. Schoenberg is associate executive director of The Rabbinical Assembly, the international professional association of Conservative rabbis. Suzanne Stier has a consulting practice that works with family-owned businesses, and she also serves as a consultant for the Alban Institute.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

This event is offered in cooperation with The Rabbinical Assembly, the professional organization of Conservative Jewish rabbis.

◆ Tuesday, December 3
History Department Lecture: "Martin Luther and the German Nation: The Reformation's Place in History"
Erdman Hall 7:30 p.m.
Cooper Conference Room

Steven Ozment, the McLean Professor of Ancient and Modern History at Harvard University, will speak. He will discuss the importance of the German Reformation for religion, culture, and politics in the modern Western world.

◆ Tuesday, December 3
HTI/PTS Lectureship—"Hispanic Bible Institutes: Seeking Empowering Postmodern Alternatives for Theological Education"
Main Lounge 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Elizabeth Conde-Frazier, assistant professor in religious education at the Claremont School of Theology in Claremont, California, will speak. Prior to this position, she was director of Hispanic and Latin American Ministries at Andover Newton Theological School in Newton, Massachusetts. She has also won HTI's Dissertation Series Award for 2002.

Conde-Frazier will speak about Bible institutes, which are like community colleges that teach religion to the laity and to educators. They are more usual in Hispanic and evangelical traditions than in mainline Anglo traditions and offer a good way to provide education in religion and Bible to lay leaders.

Respondents to Conde-Frazier's lecture will be Dr. Roberto Pazmiño, from Andover Newton Theological School, and the Reverend Israel Mercedes, from Iglesia Visión Evangélica.

Phone: 252-1271

◆ Wednesday, December 4
"Transformation...Adoption... Transformation"
Mackay Auditorium 12:40 p.m.

PTS's Association of Single Parents invites the PTS community to a noontime forum titled "Adoption." This forum will focus on the fastest-growing population in our world: households headed by a single adult. There are myriad reasons for this population increase: divorce, death, abuse, war, etc. This particular family unit has strengths and weaknesses of which we, as present and future pastors, should be informed.

David Procaccino, from the State of New Jersey's Gaming Commission, will speak. Join us, and bring your lunch and your heart.

Contact: Tara Ragbir
Phone: 919-0642

◆ Wednesday, December 4
Inaugural Address by Professor Darrell L. Guder
Miller Chapel 1:30 p.m.

Darrell L. Guder, professor of missional and ecumenical theology, will give his inaugural address, "From Mission and Theology to Missional Theology." A reception following his address will begin at 2:30 p.m. in the Private Dining Room.

◆ Thursday, December 5–Sunday, December 8
Princeton Seminar
10:00 a.m. (Thursday) to 12:30 p.m. (Sunday)

Please greet and meet our Princeton Seminar guests, who will be on campus enjoying the fourth seminar for prospective students of this academic year.

Contact: Violet Hertrich or Victor Aloyo
Phone: 688-1940

◆ Thursday, December 5
Conversation about the Labyrinth
Main Lounge 12:30–1:30 p.m.

What is a labyrinth anyway? Has it really been part of a Christian spiritual practice for centuries? What is to be gained by walking a labyrinth?

Bring your questions and your lunch to a "Conversation on the Labyrinth" featuring Abigail Rian Evans, PTS professor of practical theology and academic coordinator of field education.

This event is sponsored by PTS's Wholistic Health Initiative. An Advent prayer walk will begin Friday, December 6 using PTS's new labyrinth, given by the 2002 graduating class (see "Labyrinth Walk" on this page).

◆ Thursday, December 5
Creativity Night

The Women's Center 6:00 p.m.

PTS student Arlene Dunn, who worked in the floral industry and had her own floral design shop, will teach us how to make holiday wreaths. Registration is required. Please email Allison Herman at allison.herman@ptsem.edu to register. On registering, you will be sent a list of items needed to make your wreaths. You are responsible for supplying your own materials. Please contact Allison Herman or Arlene Dunn with any questions.

Contact: Allison Herman or Arlene Dunn
Email: allison.herman@ptsem.edu or arlene.dunn@ptsem.edu

◆ Thursday, December 5
Public Lecture: "The Varieties of Human Experience"

Center of Theological Inquiry 8:00 p.m.
50 Stockton Street

Freeman Dyson, professor of physics emeritus at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, will speak. Beyond his work in physics, Dyson has a keen awareness of the human side of science and of the human consequences of technology. In 2000 he was awarded the Templeton Prize for Progress in Religion.

Contact: Marion Gibson
Phone: 683-4797

◆ Friday, December 6 through Monday, December 9
Labyrinth Walk

Scheide Hall, Gambrell Room
9:00 a.m.–4:00 p.m. (Friday); 7:00 a.m.–9:00 p.m. (Saturday and Sunday); 7:00 a.m.–7:00 p.m. (Monday)

The PTS community is invited to walk the Seminary's new labyrinth. The canvas, 24-foot, seven-circuit labyrinth was given to the Seminary by the 2002 graduating class and made by Veriditas: The Worldwide Labyrinth Project based at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco. PTS alumna Lauren Artress serves as a canon at Grace Cathedral and founded Veriditas.

The labyrinth has recently been rediscovered around the world and at PTS as an ancient spiritual tradition in the Christian church. It provides an opportunity for creative and spiritual prayer, meditation, and illumination on one's spiritual journey.

This will be the first time the new PTS labyrinth is used.

◆ Friday, December 6
Continuing Education Event: "Karl Barth on the Holy Spirit"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

How is the saving work of Christ related to the work of the Holy Spirit? What role does the Holy Spirit play in revelation and reconciliation? How would a better understanding of the Holy Spirit help guide today's preachers and teachers in the church? These and other questions will be explored in this seminar. Participants will read a section from Barth's Church Dogmatics in advance. The sessions will then work through this material in careful detail.

Although it has been claimed that Barth has no doctrine of the Holy Spirit, the passage that will be read is typical of the more than 700 pages that Barth wrote on this topic in his dogmatics. Please read in advance: Church Dogmatics (T.&T. Clark, 1956), volume 1, part 2, pp. 203–278.

George Hunsinger, PTS's Hazel Thompson McCord Professor of Systematic Theology, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Contact: Center of Continuing Education
Phone: 497-7990

◆ Friday, December 6
Swim with Santa

Seminary Pool, Emmons Drive 6:00–8:00 p.m.

The PTS community is invited to swim with Santa. This program is sponsored by the Princeton YMCA. Registration is necessary; the cost is $5 per person, either in advance or on the night of the event. For more information or to register, call the YMCA.

Phone: 497-9622, extension 204

◆ Friday, December 6
Home for the Holidays

Witherspoon Lounge 7:00–9:00 p.m.

"Home for the Holidays" is the theme of a potluck dessert for couples on Friday, December 6. Bring a dessert to an enjoyable evening of talking about families of origin, in-laws, and holiday planning. Nancy Schongalla-Bowman, PTS's director of student counseling, will offer some thoughts about negotiating expectations, preferences, and needs with regard to going or not going home for the holidays. Small group discussions will follow, giving couples a chance to learn from each other. Single spouses are welcome to attend without their partners. Couples not yet married may attend as well. RSVPs are requested (not required) by contacting the

◆ Monday, December 9 through Friday, January 24
Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit and Gallery Talk and Reception: Eileen Kennedy-Dyne "Pentimenti: A Decade of Paintings"
Erdman Hall
Eileen Kennedy-Dyne is a graduate of the Pratt Institute of Technology in Brooklyn, New York, and an artist whose most recent painting has been inspired by the illuminated manuscripts of the 13th and 14th centuries. These medieval sources reveal the ambiguous place of women in the world of yesterday, even as Kennedy-Dyne offers a lighter contemporary perspective. She writes: "Even though my style is undeniably linear, my work plays games with space. I put figures and objects into spaces that might suffocate a live person, leaving them barely room to breathe." Gallery hours are:

Monday–Saturday	8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30 to 6:30 p.m.

A gallery talk and reception for the artist will be held Friday, December 13 at 4:30 p.m. in the Erdman Art Gallery.

◆ Wednesday, December 11
Thriving in Ministry Series: "An Afternoon of Youth Ministry"

Erdman Hall 2:00–5:30 p.m.
Cooper Conference Room

The fourth event in this year's Thriving in Ministry series will be "An Afternoon of Youth Ministry." Even if youth ministry is not going to be your primary responsibility, all good pastors need to have some resources for dealing with the youth group. Learn about interpersonal dynamics (with other pastors, kids, and parents), hear about healthy work habits, and discuss interviewing issues, like how to find out what's really behind the job description. Leading the discussion will be: Kenda Creasy Dean, assistant professor of youth, church, and culture and director of the School of Christian Education; Leslie Dobbs-Allsopp, Bridges Project coordinator, Institute for Youth Ministry; and Dayle Gillespie Rounds, director of education and communication, Institute for Youth Ministry. All are welcome to attend.

◆ Thursday, December 12
"Terror and Transformation: The Ambiguity of Religion in Psychoanalytic Perspective"

Main Lounge 2:00 p.m.

Religion has been responsible for both horrific acts against humanity and some of humanity's most sublime teachings and experiences. How is this possible?

The PTS community is invited to a special lecture sponsored by Professor Mark Taylor's class "Empire and Capital: Theological Interpretations." The Reverend Dr. James W. Jones, professor of clinical psychology at Rutgers University, will speak. He previously served as lecturer in religion and psychiatry at Union Theological Seminary in New York City. Copies of Jones's new book, Terror and Transformation, will be available for purchase. His previous books have addressed themes in theology, philosophy, and the psychology of religion.

◆ Sunday, December 8 and Monday, December 9
Labyrinth Walk

Scheide Hall, Gambrell Room
7:00 a.m.–9:00 p.m. (Sunday); 7:00 a.m.–7:00 p.m. (Monday)

The PTS community is invited to walk the Seminary's new labyrinth. The canvas, 24-foot, seven-circuit labyrinth was given to the Seminary by the 2002 graduating class and made by Veriditas: The Worldwide Labyrinth Project based at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco. PTS alumna Lauren Artress serves as a canon at Grace Cathedral and founded Veriditas.

The labyrinth has recently been rediscovered around the world and at PTS as an ancient spiritual tradition in the Christian church. It provides an opportunity for creative and spiritual prayer, meditation, and illumination on one's spiritual journey.

This will be the first time the new PTS labyrinth is used.

◆ Monday, December 9
Longest Night Service

Miller Chapel 4:30 p.m.

December 22 is the winter solstice, the longest night of the year. A service is held near this time to serve as a reminder that even on the darkest day, Christ comes into the world to offer light. For those who have lost a family member or friend, or whose year has been fraught with difficulties, this service of healing and remembrance will provide comfort, hope, and renewal.

◆ Monday, December 9 through Friday, January 24
Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit
Eileen Kennedy-Dyne "Pentimenti: A Decade of Paintings"

Erdman Hall

Eileen Kennedy-Dyne is a graduate of the Pratt Institute of Technology in Brooklyn, New York, and an artist whose most recent painting has been inspired by the illuminated manuscripts of the 13th and 14th centuries. These medieval sources reveal the ambiguous place of women in the world of yesterday, even as Kennedy-Dyne offers a lighter contemporary perspective. She writes: "Even though my style is undeniably linear, my work plays games with space. I put figures and objects into spaces that might suffocate a live person, leaving them barely room to breathe." Gallery hours are:

Monday–Saturday	8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Contact: Center of Continuing Education
Phone: 497-7990

◆ Wednesday, December 11
Informal Luncheon for Those with Anglican Identity at PTS
Main Lounge 12:30–1:30 p.m.
What does it mean to have an Anglican identity at PTS? Anglicans or those exploring the Anglican faith are invited to an informal gathering to discuss what it means to have an Anglican identity at PTS. Through this discussion we hope to determine what our needs as Anglicans are, and how we might support one another and obtain support from the Episcopal Church. Please bring your lunch and any concerns and/or ideas.

Phone: 737-7026

◆ Wednesday, December 11
"Transformation...Adoption... Transformation"
Mackay Auditorium 12:40 p.m.
PTS's Association of Single Parents invites the PTS community to a noontime forum titled "Transformation." This forum will focus on the fastest-growing population in our world: households headed by a single adult. There are myriad reasons for this population increase: divorce, death, abuse, war, etc. This particular family unit has strengths and weaknesses of which we, as present and future pastors, should be informed.
Dwight Davis, in the third year of PTS's joint M.Div./M.A. degree program, will speak. Join us, and bring your lunch and your heart.

◆ Wednesday, December 11
Thriving in Ministry Series: "An Afternoon of Youth Ministry"
Erdman Hall 2:00–5:30 p.m.
Cooper Conference Room
The fourth event in this year's Thriving in Ministry series will be "An Afternoon of Youth Ministry." Even if youth ministry is not going to be your primary responsibility, all good pastors need to have some resources for dealing with the youth group. Learn about interpersonal dynamics (with other pastors, kids, and parents), hear about healthy work habits, and discuss interviewing issues, like how to find out what's really behind the job description. Leading the discussion will be: Kenda Creasy Dean, assistant professor of youth, church, and culture and director of the School of Christian Education; Leslie Dobbs-Allsopp, Bridges Project coordinator, Institute for Youth Ministry; and Dayle Gillespie Rounds, director of education and communication, Institute for Youth Ministry. All are welcome to attend.

◆ Thursday, December 12
"Terror and Transformation: The Ambiguity of Religion in Psychoanalytic Perspective"
Main Lounge 2:00 p.m.
Religion has been responsible for both horrific acts against humanity and some of humanity's most sublime teachings and experiences. How is this possible?

The PTS community is invited to a special lecture sponsored by Professor Mark Taylor's class "Empire and Capital: Theological Interpretations." The Reverend Dr. James W. Jones, professor of clinical psychology at Rutgers University, will speak. He previously served as lecturer in religion and psychiatry at Union Theological Seminary in New York City. Copies of Jones's new book, Terror and Transformation, will be available for purchase. His previous books have addressed themes in theology, philosophy, and the psychology of religion.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements

Shuttle Bus Holiday Schedule

The shuttle bus will not be in service from Monday, December 23 through Wednesday, January 1 for the holiday break. Students living on the West Windsor campus who have an orange sticker will be permitted to park in the library lot only (if spaces are available) during those days. The shuttle will resume regular service on Thursday, January 2.

Blood Drive Thank You

A heartfelt thanks to all of you who donated blood during our fall blood drive on Wednesday, November 13. We collected a total of 50 pints. The Red Cross continues to need your support. It's never too late to donate. Please plan to attend our next blood drive scheduled for April 2003.

Dormitory Residents—Security

For your security and safety, the exterior doors of all dormitories will be locked from Saturday, December 21 through Sunday, January 5. Please use your exterior door key to gain access to your dorm during this time period. Please be sure to inform the Housing Office of whether or not you will be staying during the Christmas break.

Thank You for Recycling!

Thank you to all dormitory residents for recycling properly. Your efforts in recycling trash play an important part in maintaining a healthy environment.

Dormitory and Apartment Residents—Holiday Lights

Lights and decorations cannot be hung on the exterior of any building. Lights and decorations may be hung inside of rooms, hallways, and lounges, but not bathrooms. All lights and extension cords must be U.L. listed and in good working condition, must not block or interfere with any forms of egress or pose any trip hazard, and must not interfere with daily cleaning. The main concern is safety. We reserve the right to take down any lights or decorations that we feel are unsafe or block egress or daily cleaning.

Dormitory Residents—Meal Plan Changes

If you wish to change your meal plan for the spring semester, change request forms are now available at the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services. The deadline for changes is Friday, January 24, 2003. Changes will not be accepted once classes begin on Monday, January 27.

Upcoming ❖ Events

◆ Thursday, January 16 and Friday, January 17
Continuing Education Event: "Exploring Spiritual Disciplines for Church Renewal"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Thursday) to 3:00 p.m. (Friday)
The guiding conviction of this event is that spiritual disciplines are crucial for the transformation of a congregation. Participants will learn a sevenfold process of renewal that relies on the spiritual disciplines of church life in order to go deeper into faith. A self-study focusing on strengths of and the originating mission of a congregation begins this inner process of spiritual formation. Additionally, "servant leadership" will be studied from a biblical perspective in order for participants to move toward a biblical vision in their communities. Practical guidance will then be given for participants to take the next incremental steps in their spiritual disciplines and in their leadership in beginning a journey of vitalization in their local church.

David S. Young, interim renewal pastor at Hatfield (Pennsylvania) Church of the Brethren, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Poetry Night: "Supporting Survivors of Sexual Abuse"
Main Lounge 6:00–8:00 p.m.

Seminarians Organized Against Rape (SOAR) invites the PTS community to add their voices to the poetry of Dr. Thema Bryant-Davis, SHARE program coordinator at Princeton University, and Dr. Suzanne Stutman, professor of English at Penn State University at Abington.

Share your own poetry or read another's. Your poetry may directly pertain to the experience of abuse, victimization, and the healing journey, or it may relate to this theme in other creative ways. For more information, contact Mary Beth at mary.lecroy@ptsem.edu or Todd at todd.noren@ptsem.edu. To sign up, contact Amanda at mary.adams@ptsem.edu.

Survivors of abuse and those who support them are welcome. Both men and women are welcome.

Continuing Education Event: "Sermon Camp"
Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

This workshop, led by Robert C. Dykstra, PTS associate professor of pastoral theology, will encourage participants to identify and reclaim their own interests and desires in service to more vital pastoral preaching. It is designed for both experienced preachers who seek to recover their original wonder in preaching and also for those new to the art of pastoral preaching. Participants are encouraged to read Dykstra's book, Discovering a Sermon: Personal Pastoral Preaching, prior to the workshop, as this event will be based on the book.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.
